GOLFERS BUSY SUNDAY LAST

The Blairmore Golf and Country Club was a very busy spot last Sunday. In the morning the men entertained the visiting Fernie club, twelve members of which came down and were entertained by the local golfers, nine holes being played before lunch and nine holes after.

In the afternoon the ladies of the club held a competition, after which tea was served. The Blairmore club was well represented, a large turnout of members taking advantage of the nice weather to put in a full day on the course, which is in excellent condition.

Several of the local shotmakers are busy practicing for the Crow's Nest Pass tournament to be held at Lethbridge starting June 23rd.

MRS. DANIEL DUNLOP PASSES

Mrs. Annie Dunlop, pioneer resident of Frank, passed away at Pincher Creek on Friday last at a ripe old age.

She had been residing for a while with her daughter, Mrs. A. Bower, at Pincher Creek.

In the last war she lost three of her sons, Daniel, John Burt and James, in memory of whom a monument was erected at Frank, at which memorial services are held annually. Her husband passed away a number of years ago, since which she has resided alone in the old home. Her son-in-law, Andrew Bower, passed away a number of years ago.

The late Mrs. Dunlop was in her 80th year and had resided in Frank for forty-two years and for the past three years with her daughter in Pincher Creek. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Bower, Pincher Creek; Mrs. Cheatham, California; Mrs. Bissonette, St. Paul, Alberta, and Mrs. W. Lawther, Winnipeg.

Funeral took place from the Crow's Nest Undertaking Parlor on Monday afternoon, Rev. J. McKeelvey officiating. The remains were laid to rest in the Blairmore cemetery.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES LEARN SHEER HOSE GONE TO WAR

"Anyone who complains about the shortages of sheer hosiery in this country has no idea of the war programme," Mrs. Frank J. Conroy, regional chairman of the prices board consumer branch, told 500 delegates to the Alberta Women's Institute annual convention in Edmonton recently.

Mrs. Conroy explained that manufacturers using textiles now work under productive directives issued by the board to ensure that all essential civilian clothing needs be met.

Labelling of all ready-to-wear merchandise with the manufacturers trade label or WFTB license number, places checking of quality in the hands of consumers, Mrs. Conroy remarked.

Mrs. Conroy urged women to continue their anti-inflation support of the board. "We cannot relax until our economy is on such an even keel that there is no further danger of inflation."

RED TRAIL ASSOCIATION TO MEET TONIGHT

We understand that representatives of Boards of Trade from Lethbridge to Fernie will meet at the Turtle Mountain Playgrounds tonight to further discuss measures to be taken to secure governmental action on the improvement of the highway through the Crow's Nest Pass. This highway is used throughout the whole year and carries a heavy volume of traffic.

BLAIRMORE TO BE ENFETE ON DOMINION DAY

The Blairmore Community Sports Association has decided to follow the practice of the past seventeen years of staging a field day the first of July. That day this year being a Sunday, it is to be observed on the Monday.

There will be a good programme of sports starting at the athletic stadium at 10 a.m., including children's races, bicycle races, track and field events, men's and ladies' softball and a big baseball tournament.

As usual, the big windup will be a dance at night in the Columbus hall, with the Arcadians supplying the music.

COWLEY WRITER'S PLAY SECOND IN CONTEST

Congratulations are being extended to Mrs. Freda Graham Bundy, of Cowley, well-known writer, that she placed second in the Alberta play-writing contest sponsored by the University of Alberta. With her play, "Kaleidoscope," she won a $50 prize. Mrs. Bundy very pluckily tackled the job of writing the play while in a cast during medical treatment at the Pincher Creek hospital, so her success is doubly appreciated.—Lethbridge Herald.

HAROLD HOUGHTON PASSES AT COLEMAN

Harold Houghton, aged 54, died quite suddenly at Coleman on Tuesday night.

Harold was ever quite active as a citizen and was well known and popular. Of late years he has been secretary of the Canadian Legion and the Overseas Welfare Fund, and was flight lieutenant in the air cadets.

In 1914 he married Miss Daisy Smith, of Dartford, Kent, England. The ceremony being performed at Passburg. He served in World War I with the 192nd Battalion and was wounded in action.

He is survived by his wife; son, Petty Officer Harry Houghton; daughter Edna and three grandchildren; also his mother, two brothers and a sister.

BIRDS ARE BEING SOUGHT

A hunt is on in Saskatchewan to locate the nesting place of North America's largest land bird, the whooping crane. The bird is threatened with extinction and, according to the National Audubon Society of New York, only 17 of the species remain in existence.

The Yorkton Natural History Society is seeking the birds' nesting site, which is believed to be in the vicinity of Yorkton in eastern Saskatchewan.

Field marks of the whooping crane are its large size, pure white plumage with black wing tips and a red head. The bird flies with its long neck stretched straight out and long legs trailing straight behind, which distinguishes it from swans and pelicans.

Canon G. H. Crane-Williams, of Dimdale, has been elected provincial grand master of the A. F. & A. M., succeeding W. Ireland.

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED IN BLAIRMORE

The twentieth anniversary of the formation of the United Church of Canada was fittingly observed at the Blairmore, United church on Sunday afternoon, when representatives of the Coleman, Bellevue, Hillcrest and Blairmore congregations joined in service, in which Revs. McKeelvey, Irvin and Kettley took part.

Following the service, a supper was served in the auditorium basement.

AID SERVICEMEN RECOVER HOMES

Honorably discharged veterans who want to return to their homes can vacate a minimum three months notice to vacate to tenants. This revised prices board regulation applies to homes owned and occupied prior to enlistment and rented during the serviceman's absence.

Where veterans were living in houses, duplexes or flats owned by their parents, parents may give tenants a minimum of three months notice to vacate if their returning son or daughter wishes to re-occupy the premises.

A landlord-occupier of a multiple family house may give notice to another tenant in the same house in order to make room for a returned member of the armed forces, who is his father, son, daughter or daughter-in-law.

Except for discharged servicemen, existing rentals regulations still govern the eviction of tenants.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE MACLEOD RIDING

First I would like to congratulate Mr. Hansell on his victory in the Macleod Riding, and to thank him and all the other candidates for the clean manner and conduct in this campaign.

I would also like to thank all the people who supported me at the polls, and the people who gave so much of their time and efforts during the campaign.

Although we lost out in this Macleod Constituency, we are proud to have our Liberal Party returned to power with the Right Honorable W. L. Mackenzie King as its leader, the same government that has guided us through one of the greatest crises of our history and which will mean so much to all of us in the future.

U. OF A. BURSARIES AND SCHOLARSHIPS ANNOUNCED

It is the aim of the University of Alberta to reward high scholastic attainment, and at the same time encourage and aid deserving students who may be in need of financial assistance. Thus a number of awards are available to matriculants upon entering the university. These awards fall into three classes: prizes, scholarships and bursaries. A prize is an award of less than $100, a scholarship is an award of at least $100. Both prizes and scholarships are awarded only on the basis of academic achievement. A bursary is awarded on the basis of academic achievement plus financial need.

Here are details of a couple of the bursaries offered. Full information about all awards may be obtained from the registrar of the university.

University Women's Club Bursary—This bursary of $150 is open to women students from Alberta high schools. It is awarded on the basis of academic standing in Grade XII examinations and financial need. Application should be made to the registrar by August 15th.

The Friends of the University Matriculation Bursary—A bursary of $150 is available for the session 1945-46 to students from Alberta high schools other than those in Edmonton, Calgary district, or Banff National Park. The award will be made on the basis of a satisfactory academic record in the Grade XII examinations and the need for financial assistance. Application should be made to the registrar by August 15th.

"Here comes our cheque Mummy!"

All over Canada, in cities, towns, villages and on farms, hundreds of thousands of men and women watch for the postman to bring dependents' allowance cheques as other people look for pay-day. They are people of all ages whose breadwinners are away on active service. They include returned men not yet back in civil life.

And soon there will be hundreds of thousands more back from the war. They will receive cheques to help them buy civilian clothes, to go to college, to get technical or vocational training, to start in business for themselves, or to set up as farmers or fishermen.

The banks have to be prepared to cash all official cheques for these and a dozen other purposes—and to do so anywhere in Canada without charge. In fact, the banks supply Canada with the nationwide machinery to facilitate a grateful country's plans for restoring service men and women to civilian life.

This is a tremendous task. It will entail a vast amount of bookkeeping. But you can be sure that your banks will take it in their stride without impairing regular banking service.

Each For All

IN HIS MESSAGE TO THE MEN of the First Canadian Army on V-E Day, General Crerar said in part: "Each for all" has been the guiding principle of the Canadian army in battle. That same principle is the essential one to which we must adhere if we are to assure the life and growth of democratic government in the world—that community system which has been so eloquently described by Abraham Lincoln as "government of the people, by the people, for the people." Soldiers of Canada have worked to it in war. Citizens of Canada can do no less in peace. Although this message was directed to the troops, all Canadians would do well to consider the thoughts expressed there, and to reflect on how the application of that guiding principle, "each for all" might be used to bring about peacetime achievements comparable to those made by our men who fought so splendidly in Europe.

A New Chapter In Our History

Many young men and women, coming out of the services will be entering business or professional life for the first time, and they will also, for the first time, assume the responsibilities of citizenship under peacetime conditions. Others, who were established in their work before the war, will return with a new outlook on many problems. The magnificent record of the Canadians on the fighting fronts has demonstrated their capacity for accomplishing great things. At home, our resources have been organized to give support to the armed forces, and there have been outstanding achievements in connection with production, scientific developments and many other matters. In all this we have worked to preserve our own freedom, and that of the other Allied countries. We must realize that the same energy, interest and co-operation will be needed if our future is to be secure.

People Should Use Franchise

The principle "each for all" has many applications to the conduct of affairs in time of peace. In a democracy the government reflects the will of the people. In Canada, there is every opportunity for the people to elect the government they prefer, and through that government, to determine the domestic and foreign policy. Statistics show, however, that on too many occasions large numbers of the people fail to register their votes in municipal, provincial and federal elections. If there is to be true democracy here, and if each citizen is to assume his or her full responsibility, we must begin by taking a deep interest in public affairs and by exercising our franchise at every opportunity. There are other domestic problems, including public health, education and unemployment which could profitably be approached from this point of view of "each for all". It has its application also, to racial and religious tolerance both at home and abroad. Great possibilities lie ahead, but the responsibility for developing them lies with the people.

SMILE AWHILE

Sign in the window of a West Coast beauty salon: "Don't whistle at the girls when they leave this Salon. One of them may be your grandmother."

"What did the calf say to the silo?"

"I don't know."

"Is my fodder in there?"

Jones: "Heaven bless him! He showed confidence in me when the clouds were dark and threatening."

Robinson: "In what way?"

"He lent me an umbrella."

Professor: "What is the most potent poison?"

Student: "An airplane; one drop and you're dead."

June: "Who was that man I saw kissing you in the hotel foyer?"

Julie: "I couldn't just place him at the time, but he seemed to know me pretty well."

Murphy: "Can you get any distance on your wireless?"

Jones: "Well I've had complaints from people living three streets away."

"Your vacation doesn't seem to bother you."

"No; my boss tells me when and my wife where."

Mr. Faraway: I was going to call you up last evening, but I forgot your telephone number.

Prof. Letherington: It is 742. You can remember it easily by associating it with the year of Charlemagne's birth.

Dodd: I notice that in telling about that fish you caught you vary the size for different listeners.

Rodd: Yes, I never tell a man more than I think he'll believe.

A girl, filling out a form before going to college, came to the question: "What is your denominational preference?"

She wrote: "I like to be called Betty."

Dame Of Sark

Passants Carried On Under Five Years Of German Occupation

The tiny island of Sark and its population of 360 persons remained, during five years of German occupation, under the benevolent feudal rule of the 60-year-old Dame of Sark.

Liberated British forces expected to conduct the garrison of some 300 Germans, led by an ardent Nazi captain, had ravaged the island. Instead, they learned that the sharp-witted Dame of Sark had kept her charges almost completely free of interference by the Germans.

The Dame, who is "Madame" to the reverent islanders, operates her island efficiently and democratically under the old English feudal system. Her grant to the island dates back to the time of Queen Elizabeth, who gave it to a Jersey man, Helier De Carteret.

Weather Causes

Has Now Become A Science. So That We Can Predict Changes

By understanding the causes of weather and its actions we have learned to adjust ourselves to its moods. Now we can predict what will happen and when it will come. Frost, rain, wind and flood are foreseen and the necessary defences made. The orange-grower is warned of frost, and he makes ready his smudge pots to blanket the groves with smoke. Airplanes are despatched only when weather is favorable along their route. We have always had the weather with us, but now it is a science and meteorology has become big business.—Calgary Herald.

Report Gratifying

German Respected Cemeteries And Memorials In France And Belgium

Sir Fabian Ware and his colleagues of the Imperial War Graves Commission are able to give a gratifying account of the state of its cemeteries and memorials in France and Belgium after the German occupation. They were respected by the enemy and, thanks also to the care of the French and Belgian authorities, can soon be restored. Our cemetery at Cologne is also found to be in good condition. All this greatly lightens the work of repair and will hasten the work of making new cemeteries for the dead of this war, the commission's latest charge. It is a melancholy task performed with reverence and attention to architectural and horticultural beauty, and some of our best architects contribute to making these memorials worthy of our fallen. Happily the commission has not been stilled of funds; the governments of the commonwealth have contributed in proportion and there is no fear that the memorials will fall into neglect.—Manchester Guardian.

MEET A CWAC—

"Someone has to stay at home, I guess," says Pte. Emma Airriens, Togo, Sask. Emma, one of a family of six service members, all of them in khaki; is the only one still in Canada. One of her brothers was taken prisoner at Hong Kong, three of them served on the Western Front as did also their sister, Alice, one of a company of CWACs in Belgium. Emma is extremely proud of her brothers and sisters. Of course she'd like to be over there with them, but as long as her brothers are determined to do a bang-up job of "carrying-on" in Canada, Emma enlisted in the C.W.A.C. in December, 1942. She received her basic training at Vermilion, Alberta, and since that time has been posted in Regina. Very fond of any sports, her chief hobby, however, is fancy work. Reading, music and nature study come high on her list of "things I like to study and do".

PROMOTED

Pte. Joyce Hilda Wick, Kerrobert, Sask., has recently been promoted to the rank of lance corporal at Camp Borden, Ont., where she is now stationed. L-Cpl. Wick enlisted at Winnipeg in February, 1943. Following her basic training at Vermilion, Alta., she was posted to Camp Borden as a storewoman where she has been employed since.

GRADUATE

Several Western girls were included in the latest clerks' course graduating class at No. 3 CWAC (B) T.C., at Kitchener, Ont. Among them were Pte. J. Annand, Mossburn, Sask.; M. Blouck, Theora, Sask.; G. E. Brady, McCreary, Man.; J. T. Czech, Raymond, Alta.; E. A. Bowerman, Regina; C. E. Edwards, Taber, Alta.; M. E. Griffiths, Calgary; D. J. Grey, Yorkton, Sask.; P. E. Johns, Balmain, Man.; J. M. Low, Riverhurst, Man.; A. E. Poole, Cheviot, Sask.; S. M. Hunt, Vancouver; L. Kirschman, Edmonton; and M. F. McBeth, Calgary.

YOU NEVER KNOW—

Cpl. Evelyn Watson, Belleville, Ont., started out to study cooking. She ended up in front of a camera. It all started when an Army photographer attended the cooking class to take some pictures for publicity purposes. When the negatives were developed one of the students was spotted as being a decidedly photographic type. The "type" was identified as Corporal Watson and she was promptly enrolled on the list of CWAC models, on call for special publicity purposes. Her first assignment was to pose for a colour photo to be reproduced as the cover of a popular magazine. A former switchboard operator, Cpl. Watson enlisted in May, 1943. On completion of basic training at Kitchener, Ont., she attended the army stenographic course at Ottawa and Toronto. She is now employed as clerk typist at the Dir. of Repatriation, N.D.H.Q.

Record Hog Output

Major Increases Shown In Two Western Provinces

Of the record quantity of meat produced in Canada in 1944, Swift Canadian Co. Limited handled 16.2 per cent, J. H. Tapley, President, states in the company's annual report to employees just issued.

In 1944, Canadian pork production reached an all-time peak, Mr. Tapley pointed out. Total hog marketings across Canada jumped from 3,705,000 in 1939 to 8,863,000 in 1944, a rise of 142 per cent.

Based on data published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and the Dominion Department of Agriculture, of total slaughtering of cattle, calves, hogs, sheep and lambs during the year 1944, said Mr. Tapley, "Swift Canadian Co. Limited, processed 16.2 per cent. of the total number of head of livestock slaughtered in Canada, or on the basis total pounds of meat produced last year our company handled 16.2 per cent."

Mr. Tapley also announced that a total of $2,690 in cash awards was received by 303 employees who had made acceptable suggestions under the Employees' Suggestion Plan.

He noted that 1,272 employees had gone into the armed services and recalled with regret that 34 of these had either been killed in action or died in service, five were missing in action and eight were prisoners of war.

"Our ability to meet the heavy wartime demand for food, and our achievement in handling record quantities at a time when many of our experienced employees are in the armed forces," said Mr. Tapley, "is a tribute to the efforts of all who remained behind at their jobs."

Seven Thousand Guns Operated On Britain's East Coast

Seven thousand guns were arrayed on Britain's east coast when the second flying bomb campaign began in September, 1944, it was revealed.

Canadian Army Is Ready For Duty In Germany

UTRECHT, Holland. — Formation of the Third Canadian Division (Canadian Occupation Force) is about to begin.

Garrison brigades numbers 107, 108 and 109 now have been almost completely moved to Holland and under command of the Third Canadian Infantry Division.

Each brigade now is about to be placed alongside the appropriate brigades of the Third Division—the 7th, 8th and 9th—and the process of transferring personnel between the constituent battalions will begin.

Long-service personnel in garrison units will be transferred to the regular Third Division battalions; their places will be filled by short-service men, and volunteers for this type of duty from other formations, including the Third Division.

The idea is to split the Third Division into two parts when this is completed. The occupational force, comprised mostly of volunteers, and men more recently overseas, then will be ready for its role in Germany. The veteran Third Division, composed of longer service men, then will wait for repatriation, either as individuals or Canada drafts or as units when the necessity point in priority tables is reached.

The formation of Maj-Gen. Chris Vokes' C.O.F. headquarters is proceeding apace and a slate of staff officers already is almost completed.

The administrative side of the Canadian army overseas solved the problem of halving the Canadian division here by calling one Third Canadian Infantry Division (C.O.F.) and the other Third Canadian Infantry Division (C.A.N.), which indicates its men are Canadian-born.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS

Premier George Drew Is Swept Back Into Power

TORONTO. — Premier George Drew and his government swept back into power in Ontario on a tide of Progressive Conservative votes which reduced the opposition to possibly 25 members in the 90 seat legislature.

The C.C.F., official opposition, lost its last legislature, slumped from 34 to six, and the Liberals dropped from 15 to 10. Latest standing gave the Progressive Conservatives 67, the C.C.F. six, the Liberals 10, Liberal Labor two and Labor Progressive two.

Returns were on the basis of the civilian vote. Service returns, not expected to influence the result greatly, will be made known in a few days.

The premier and his complete cabinet scored personal triumphs on the basis of civilian votes in this 22nd Ontario provincial election. But C.C.F. leader E. B. Joffe and Liberal leader Mitchell Hepburn followed their parties' fortunes. They lost to Progressive Conservative candidates.

The vote gave Premier Drew, who since election in August, 1943, had led a minority 38-member government, the first clear majority for the Progressive Conservatives since the 1929 elections.

It confirmed in office a party which has governed for 27 of the last 40 years.

WHEAT FOR BRITAIN

Says That Canada Has Done A Grand Job

MONTREAL. — Canada has done a "grand job" in the transportation of Canadian wheat for Britain and continental Europe, R. V. Biddulph, European commissioner of the Canadian wheat board, said here in a press interview.

Mr. Biddulph who has spent the last few months in Canada on behalf of the British food ministry, told reporters his report to British authorities on the amount and transportation of Canadian wheat overseas will be "very hopeful".

Rare Books And Paintings Worth Millions Belong To Munich

MUNICH. — A library of rare books, worth many millions of dollars, belonging to the University of Munich, has been found in a village 20 miles east of Munich.

Scores of paintings from Munich cathedral valued at about $1,000,000 also were found when a routine security check was made in one street of the village of less than 40 houses, called Kirchdorf.

The collection was sent to Kirchdorf a year ago by Cardinal Faulhaber, the anti-Nazi prelate.

Truman Asks For New Lend-Lease Appropriation Of $1,975,000,000

WASHINGTON. — President Truman asked congress for a new lend-lease appropriation of $1,975,000,000 to help "bring the conflict with Japan to a quick and decisive end." In a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn of the house of representatives, the president said the appropriation, recommended for the fiscal year beginning July 1 would—together with unobligated balances of $2,400,000,000—make up a total program of $4,375,000,000.

BIG THREE MEETING

Says Stalin Has Agreed To Attend The Conference

NEW YORK. — The Russian-controlled Graz radio in Austria said that Marshal Stalin had "agreed" to attend a Big Three conference and had expressed the opinion that it "should be held soon."

The broadcast, monitored by the Federal Communications Commission, credited the visit of Harry Hopkins to Moscow as playing "a large part in this development."

Mr. Churchill said that until British forces intervened, Britain had issued no arms to the Syrians or Lebanese, but that for the sake of maintaining order they now were being issued guns.

Consentation Objectors Have Contributed Sum Of $1,784,259 From Pay

OTTAWA. — Some 10,700 conscientious objectors—known officially as alternative service workers—employed in agriculture and other industries of a high priority throughout Canada have contributed $1,784,259 from their pay to the Canadian Red Cross Society, a labor department statement said.

The statement said that because of the cancellation of military call-ups with the ending of the war in Europe, no new directives to report for alternative service will be issued to those men who would be otherwise eligible.

However, those engaged in work in place of service in the armed forces would continue such work until regulations which affect them are cancelled.

In a general review of the conscientious objector situation in Canada, Labor Minister Mitchell said that from five to 15 per cent of alternative service workers' gross earnings are contributed to the Red Cross, depending on the individual earning power and the number of dependents. These workers, in common with other citizens, pay income tax.

By the end of 1940, Britain had lost 900 ships, totalling more than 3,000,000 tons.

Reply Is Made To De Gaulle Regarding Syria

LONDON.—Prime Minister Churchill disputed Gen. de Gaulle's charge that British agents had stirred up trouble in Syria and declared Britain was ready to withdraw all her troops the moment a treaty was effected between France and the Levant states.

Mr. Churchill declared Britain had "absolutely no ambitions of any kind in the Levant states."

"We sought no territory there and no kind of advantage that was not given to any of the other nations of the world," he said.

The prime minister declared he favored only Britain, the United States and France negotiating the French-Levant dispute.

Gen. De Gaulle had suggested a five-power parity, with Russia and Canada attending, but Mr. Churchill declared "this would certainly cause a great deal of delay and would require very careful consideration on many grounds."

"Far from stirring up agitation in the Levant states, our whole influence has been used in precisely the other direction," he declared.

The prime minister said that while Britain recognized France's "special position" in those states, that did not mean "we have undertaken to enforce that special position."

"We shall put no obstacle to it either at the council table or in any other way, but our commitments and duties also extend throughout the Middle East," he said.

Mr. Churchill touched upon an apparent diplomatic mixup which led to a public exchange between himself and Gen. de Gaulle instead of more formal negotiations.

"I must express my regret that the message to Gen. de Gaulle in forming him of our intervention reached him some three-quarters of an hour after the foreign secretary had made his statement to the house. I need hardly say that no discourtesy was intended."

GOING HOME TO WORK

LONDON.—The first of 300,000 German prisoners of war have been started on their way home to help in the production of German foodstuffs, the ministry of information announced. The statement emphasized that no officers were being sent back and that care was being taken to ensure that no war criminals were among those being sent home.

Allied Powers Set Up Zones Of Occupation

WASHINGTON.—Germany's frontiers were rolled back to the boundaries of Dec. 31, 1937, in a joint occupation statement by the Allied powers.

The statement, setting up occupation zones for the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia, recreates the German nation as it was before Hitler's annexation of Austria and Czechoslovakia. The declaration was made simultaneously in Washington, Moscow, London and Paris.

With Germany's unconditional surrender, the statement said, there no longer is any central government or authority there "capable of accepting responsibility for the maintenance of order, the administration of the country and compliance with the requirements of the victorious powers."

"It is in these circumstances necessary, without prejudice to any subsequent decisions that may be taken respecting Germany," the pronouncement went on, "to make provision for the cessation of any further hostilities on the part of the German armed forces, for the maintenance of order in Germany and for the administration of the country, and to announce the immediate requirements with which Germany must comply."

Four occupational zones were set up and allotted to the victorious Allied powers as follows:

An eastern zone to the Soviet Union.

A northwestern zone to the United Kingdom.

A southwestern zone to the United States.

A western zone to France.

In addition, an area of "Greater Berlin" was created to be administered by an inter-Allied governing authority with representatives of each of the four powers.

None of the zones was further defined in the statement.

"The governments of the four powers hereby announce," one of the series of four statements on the occupation said, "that it is their intention to consult with the governments of other United Nations in connection with the exercise of this (occupation) authority."

At another point it was specified: "United Nations organizations will, if admitted by the control council to operate in Germany, be subordinate to the Allied control machinery and answerable to it."

The administration of the "Greater Berlin" area will be directed by an inter-Allied governing authority, which will operate under the general direction of the control council, and will consist of four commanders, each of whom will serve in rotation as chief commandant. They will be assisted by a technical staff which will supervise and control the activities of the local German organs."

RAN INTO ICEBERGS

Twenty Two Ships Damaged Day Before Convoy System Ended

LONDON.—Twenty-two ships sailing in convoy were damaged when they encountered icebergs in dense fog in the North Atlantic May 27, the day before ships were released from the wartime convoy system except in combat areas, the ministry of information disclosed. Eleven of the vessels were American, seven British, two Norwegian and two Dutch.

Convoy From Britain Runs Into Icebergs

HALIFAX.—Twenty-two ships of a 76-ship convoy making its way from Britain to North America have arrived in Halifax after they were damaged in a multiple collision which occurred as they took a 90-degree swerve to dodge a field of icebergs in the fog-bound Atlantic off the Newfoundland banks.

Among the ships damaged in a series of crashes which occurred within a 10-minute period, was the Canadian victory freighter, Port Columbia which arrived in port with her bow bashed in. Three of the vessels hit icebergs.

It is one of the greatest miracles of the Atlantic that no ships were lost in making the 90-degree turn to sink or lives lost," said an officer of one of the surviving ships.

For an entire week the convoy headed for North America lost in a thick fog. Visibility was barely more than 200 feet on Sunday afternoon, May 28, when one of the leading freighters signalled she had hit an iceberg.

There were instant messages from the commodore to alter course, but some of the ships were slower than others in making the 90-degree turn and vessel after vessel crashed into one another. Others missed collision by so little that men on watch "held their breath and prayed," as one crewman put it.

A British Liberty ship, the Samstrail, hit the first of nine sighted icebergs and started the confusion that followed. "The air was splitting with the hooping of fog horns. The wireless boards were jumping with signals."

The crew of one ship dragged out a French band horn to blow as a warning signal after its fog horn mechanism had broken down.

Despite the confusion there was no panic among crew members, Captain Bantz, of the Port Columbia, said. Had the Canadian merchantman not been brought nearly to a stop and at the same time swerved sharply to starboard, an approaching ship would have struck it amidships and possibly sunk the freighter. A hole 15 feet in the port bow of the Port Columbia and the steel deck adjoining it buckled.

Most seriously damaged of the convoy ships was the Samstrail which continued to limp along with a 14-foot-long hole in her side.

News About World's Largest Plane Released By Aircraft Company

CULVER CITY, Calif.—The Hughes Aircraft Company has lifted the wraps from the world's largest aircraft, revealing that it could carry 750 soldiers and their equipment.

It is a seaplane with a wing spread of "more than 300 feet" and "about 220 feet" long. Charles W. Perelle, vice-president, said also that it will carry 40 tons, or 14,000 gallons, of gasoline and a payload of between 60 and 70 tons.

Perelle said that the plane, made entirely of laminated plywood, has been designed for inter-continental freight. The plane will be powered by eight 3,000 horsepower engines but it will be the end of the year before it is flown.

LIFT RESTRICTIONS ON GAS STATIONS

Federal restrictions on the operating of gasoline filling stations were lifted on June 1st, as another measure to get civilian traffic regulated on back to a normal basis. The federal restrictions had been imposed as a wartime measure.

With the federal order lifted, the control of these filling and service stations, including the fixing of opening and closing hours, rests with the municipal authorities.

Expressing satisfaction with the order in removing federal restrictions, officials of the Alberta Motor Association pointed out that it is necessary to take such steps in the interests of development of the tourist industry. It has been claimed by the Canadian Automobile Association that relaxing of restrictions on gasoline filling stations is an essential first step in building up tourist traffic from the U.S.

THE GREAT CRIME OF THE GERMAN PEOPLE

The question of the trial and punishment of German war criminals is being widely discussed in the British press. But, so far as many of the Nazi ringleaders are concerned, that question has already been disposed of by suicide. Hitler, Goebbels, Himmler and other of the gangster chiefs have sat in judgment on themselves, found themselves "guilty," pronounced sentence of death, and straightway carried it out.

We should thank them for that, since they have saved us the trouble and expense of litigation and the rather messy job of shooting or hanging them. In that respect they showed good judgment and did at least one good deed for mankind.

Someone has said the "you cannot indict a nation," and it would be unjust to accuse the German people as a whole of plotting the war and of perpetrating the horrible crimes of the concentration camps. When Hitler and his gangsters seized power they established a system of government which gave them absolute control over the life of every German citizen.

Before the war there must have been millions of people in Germany who dreaded the thought of another war. A friend of mine who was in Germany during the summer of 1939, told me that he had never seen so many gloomy faces as he met in Hamburg and Cologne, and that the only Germans who seemed to be happy were the soldiers and the Nazi-trained young people.

There can be no doubt that once the war started and the German armies were sweeping everything before them, the great mass of the German people were carried away by the sight of power and conquest. They hailed Hitler as a great conqueror, and if they had any qualms of conscience over the inhuman crimes of the Gestapo, they were powerless to protest. They probably came to believe that Hitler's promised social security and "thousand years of peace" under an almighty German Empire justified the means.

So far as the civilian population of Germany is concerned, they have already been punished and humiliated to the very dust of their cities for their part in the crimes of the war. They have only to look around them to realize their guilt and their folly in allowing themselves to come under a system of government which robbed them of their political and personal freedom by promises of a National Socialist Utopia.

It would be hard to imagine the people of Canada being fooled by such promises or submitting to the dictatorship of one man or one political party. Such horrible atrocities as were committed in German concentration camps would not be tolerated by the Canadian people or any other people in a free democracy. But if the people of Canada were to adopt any form of State Socialism, they would eventually, like the Germans, become servants of the government. Socialists frankly admit that in order to bring about a "fundamental change" and establish and maintain their "new order of society" it would be necessary for a Socialist government to remain in power indefinitely. It stands to sense that an anti-Socialist government could not be allowed to come in and spoil the whole thing.

However renevolent the socialist "new order of society" might be in the first instance, a permanent one-party government would, in the very nature of things, eventually become corrupt and present an opportunity for the rise of a future Hitler or Mussolini to dictatorship. The greatest crime the German people committed was to allow themselves to become the regimented slaves of a system of government which promised them—and these were the very words the Nazis used—"social security from the cradle to the grave." The only place that millions of Germans found security was in the grave.—Lewis Milligan.

REFUGEES MAKING GOOD

Refugees who, searching for relief from persecution in their home countries, by seeking asylum in Canada, are not always a charge on the Dominion as many people may suppose. Many of them are even today making a valuable contribution to the progress of this country and are displaying a splendid Canadian spirit, which stamps them as desirable citizens in every respect.

A bulletin of the Canadian national committee on refugees tells of Czech refugees who are applying their natural flair for resourcefulness to various forest industries in B.C. Some have gone in for the drying and cutting of hemlock on a large scale and have also succeeded in winning a market for lumber which, until recently, had been scorned by the trade. Other refugees purchased an old sawmill at the outskirts of Vancouver, rebuilt and greatly enlarged it, and then established a plywood plant which is today one of the largest in Canada. A firm operated by a Polish refugee is also doing very important plywood work in Toronto, producing wooden parts for aircraft, and also specializing in the making of pre-fabricated houses, an industry with great export potentialities.

Two ex-Rumanians are manufacturing containers in Montreal, specializing in papier-mache packaging for shell cases, an industry which the WIB credited with "doing an extremely effective war job." Two Belgians in Toronto are supplying the mining and other industries with industrial diamonds. An Hungarian manufactures fine chemicals, and another Hungarian is producing precision tools.

Canada is a big country, providing room for a much larger population. After this war, this land will be a popular haven for those from many countries who will wish to make a fresh start under conditions of liberty and freedom. Careful selection of immigrants, to ensure the entry of only those capable of absorbing the real Canadian spirit, can promote increased prosperity of this country.

SOON YOU'LL BE COOKING WITH "LIGHTS"

say men who think of tomorrow

FEATHER-LIGHT CAKES, DELICIOUS BISCUITS—all baked perfectly in one-third the usual time; luscious roasts done in a jiffy all the way through—miracles of cookery performed not by the heat of a fire but by the heat of light in the kitchens of tomorrow! It will be done with banks of infra-red "electric light heaters" which will fire tomorrow's ovens and cook your foods with the even, easily controlled penetrating heat of infra-red rays!

COOKING WITH LIGHTS is only one of the many miracles of everyday living being planned for us today by MEN WHO THINK OF TOMORROW. But, before we can have these things, we must first win this war.

Many things we are accustomed to having for ourselves are urgently needed on the fighting fronts. It is our duty to get them there.

What is it our men need from us?

They need explosives and medicines that they will get only if we save our waste kitchen fats. They need shell-containers and shipping cartons—that are made from our waste paper. And they need the precious tin from our used cans that goes into the making of ammunition and other war supplies. Vital things that we can salvage with so little effort.

Our men also need to know that we are backing them up, not only by our war activities but also with our dollars. To a soldier in a foxhole, the most convincing sign that we at home are supporting him is our increased purchases of Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates, and the fact that we are holding on to those we buy.

Have you done your share today? If so, you are truly one of those MEN WHO THINK OF TOMORROW!

HAVE YOU REGISTERED YOUR CHILDREN FOR FAMILY ALLOWANCES?

1,200,000 FAMILIES have already registered for Family Allowances. Approximately 100,000 families who are entitled to register and who will benefit, have not yet registered.

Family Allowances cheques will be mailed in July.

If you want to receive your first cheque, register now. If you delay your registration any longer, it may not be possible to deal with your application in time to send you the first cheque.

If you have children under 16 and if your income is under $3,000 a year, you will benefit from Family Allowances. If you have not registered, and intend to do so, please act at once! Family Allowances Registration forms have been mailed to every family. They can be obtained at the nearest post office or by writing to the Regional Director of Family Allowances in the capital of your province.

FAMILY ALLOWANCES AND INCOME TAX

When the Family Allowances Act was passed, Parliament approved the principle that there should be no duplication of benefits by way of Family Allowances and Income Tax credits for the same child.

Family Allowances cheques will be paid in full every month. But for the last six months of 1945 an adjustment will be made to avoid duplication of benefits. The table below shows the effect of this adjustment and will enable taxpayers to determine the extent to which they will benefit from Family Allowances.

TABLE SHOWING EFFECT OF ADJUSTMENT FOR 1945

AMOUNT OF TAXABLE INCOME	Percent by which taxpayers will benefit from Family Allowances in addition to present income tax credits for 1945.
Over $1200 but not over $1400	100%
" " " " " " " " " " " "	80%
" " " " " " " " " " " "	70%

" " " " " " " " " " " "	20%
" " " " " " " " " " " "	10%
" " " " " " " " " " " "	0%

NOTE.—This table applies to married persons and others having the status of married persons for income tax purposes. For the relatively small number of single persons supporting children and not having married status for income tax purposes, and for members of the Armed Forces, special tables can be obtained from the Regional Director of Family Allowances in each provincial capital.

The BENEFITS: The Family Allowances Act was passed to help equalize opportunities for all children. The monthly allowances will assist in providing medical, dental and nursing services, better food, better clothing and shelter.

Family Allowances are additional to dependents' allowances for servicemen's families and military pensions.

Furthermore, Family Allowances are NOT taxable. You do not add these monthly payments to your total income when computing your income tax.

In the column at left is an explanation of the relationship between Family Allowances and Income Tax deductions for children. From the table given you can determine quickly the extent to which you will benefit.

REGISTER NOW!

If you intend to apply for Family Allowances but have not already done so, please act at once—in the interests of your children. Remember, the first cheques will be mailed in July, but only to those who have registered and are eligible to receive Family Allowances.

SCALE OF MONTHLY ALLOWANCES FOR THE FIRST FOUR CHILDREN

For each child
Under 6	$5.00
From 6 to 9 (inclusive)	6.00
From 10 to 12 (inclusive)	7.00
From 13 to 15 (inclusive)	8.00

Experiment Ended

Pagan City Hitler Started Is Just Another Failure

Hitler's "strength through joy automobile city," a mile from Fallersleben, now is a picture of a vast dream shattered.

Here Hitler started what he boasted would become the world's largest automobile plant, and he made the new city an experiment in attempting to eradicate Christianity.

Hitler promised that every worker would be in a position to become the owner of an air-cooled, four-cylinder, 24-horsepower, five-seater flivver, beginning in the last months of 1939. The price for this people's car was fixed at 960 marks (about $396), and a special workwagon savings bank was started into which workers could pay as little as five marks monthly.

War broke out at the time fixed by Hitler for delivery of the first cars. No worker received his promised car, and his savings account was credited to the war loan. Only a few production units are intact enough to make a few cars daily for Allied military purposes.

Germany's youngest city also is doomed. Here Hitler was determined that citizens and especially children should be reared in Nazi paganism. No churches were permitted, but instead a community house was erected as the city's centre of "religious activities". There, for instance, the ceremony of "name-giving" as a substitute for Christian baptism was held.

That experiment also is ended.

A gale is a wind of considerable power, stronger than a breeze, but not severe enough to be called a storm.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

By Fred Neher

"If you ask me, mom, we drew a lesson!"

Appointed To Senate

H-Captain Brewster Robinson was carrying on as usual with his duties as Acting Overseas Manager of the Canadian Legion, when he heard of his appointment to the Canadian Senate.

The Captain's reaction was undemocratic. "It is nice," he said, "to know that I have friends at home."

Senator Robinson has many friends, on both sides of the ocean. He has been active politically in his native province of Prince Edward Island a good part of his life, having held the mayor's chair in Summerside, as well as a seat in the P.E.I. Legislature. He served in France from 1915 to 1919 with the 2nd Heavy Battery during the last war, and during the years of peace associated himself extensively with the affairs of the Canadian Legion.

The Senator came overseas as Auxiliary Supervisor attached to the Cape Breton Highlanders, in the 5th Division. After serving with that unit in the United Kingdom, he transferred to the Personal Service Dept. of the Canadian Legion, in London. Since the return of Mr. Baeten to Canada a short while ago, Senator Robinson has been acting as Overseas Manager for the Legion.

Senator Robinson feels that he will take with him to the Upper Chamber a considerable understanding of soldiers' problems, and how to deal with them. He fought with them in the last war, and has served with them well in this. He is convinced that the plans for the rehabilitation of Canadian servicemen and women far surpass those of any other country.

The Senator's wife is at present working in a blood clinic in Montreal, but after the war they will probably divide their time between Ottawa and Summerside, where he is associated with the P.E.I. Fur Pool Limited, a company formed by the breeders of silver fox.

A Striking Tribute

U.S. General Bears Witness To Churchill's Grandeur Of Leadership

General George Marshall, United States Chief of Staff, in a message to Prime Minister Churchill, published in London, paid tribute to Mr. Churchill's "vast contribution to the re-establishment of peace in Europe." Gen. Marshall said: "It has been a long and terrible road for you, sir, since the fall of France. I can bear personal witness to the grandeur of your leadership."

"There will always be in my mind the breadth of your vision, and your generous attitude in effecting the co-ordination and crystallization of our combined plans. Personally I will cherish the friendship and confidence you gave me during the seemingly slow and tortuous progress to the most complete victory in modern history."

Mr. Churchill, in reply, declared: "I am deeply grateful to you for the message with which you have honored me although it is far beyond my deserts."

THE CHURCH BEGINS ITS WORK

Memory Selection: Ye shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. Acts 1:8.

Lesson: Luke 24:44-48; Acts 1:1-7.

LUKE 24:44 And he said unto them, These are my words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must needs be fulfilled, which are written in the law of Moses, and the prophets, and the psalms, concerning me. 45 Then opened he their mind, that they might understand the scriptures; 46 and he said unto them, Thus it is written, that the Christ should suffer, and rise again from the dead the third day; 47 and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name unto all the nations, beginning from Jerusalem. 48 Ye are witnesses of these things.

ACTS 1:1 And as they spake unto the people, the priests and the captain of the temple and the Sadducees came upon them, 2 being sore troubled, because they taught the people, and proclaimed in Jesus the resurrection from the dead. 3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in ward unto the morrow: for it was now evening. 4 But many of them that heard the word believed; and the number of the men came to be about five thousand.

ACTS 5:29 But Peter and the apostles answered and said, We must obey God rather than men. 30 The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom we slew, hanging him on a tree. 31 Him did God exalt with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, to give repentance to Israel, and remission of sins. 32 And we are witnesses of these things; and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 But they, when they heard this, were cut to the heart, and were minded to slay them. 34 But there stood up one in the council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, had in honor of all the people, and commanded to put the men forth a little while. 35 And he said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves as touching these men, what ye are about to do.

38 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will be overthrown: 39 but if it is of God, ye will not be able to overthrow it: lest haply ye be found even to be fighting against God. 40 And to him they gave heed, because they had called the apostles unto them, they beat them and charged them not to speak the name of Jesus, and let them go.

42 And every day, in the temple and at home, they ceased not to teach and to preach Jesus as the Christ.

Sanitation Plays An Important Part In Disease Prevention

Sanitation plays an important role in disease prevention in poultry flocks. It entails the provision and maintenance of clean, healthful surroundings for chicks, growing birds, and the laying flock. Upon sanitary measures also depends the success with which birds are protected from lice and mites, and, from polluted soil, harboring worm eggs and germs.

The conditions under which the young birds are kept during the growing period influence the death rate in the flock during the winter and ensuing months. When kept on polluted soil, the birds are almost certain to be infested with intestinal worms as well as with infections of diseases contracted and spread by previous generations of poultry. Due to the dangers of rearing young stock on ground that has been in constant use for poultry, it is a good plan, states R. M. Hopper, Dominion Experimental Farm, Brandon, Man., to enclose the growing stock on a fresh piece of ground that has not been used for poultry for at least two years. The soil in the immediate vicinity of the farm buildings is the most likely to be polluted, and is consequently the most dangerous area for the young stock. The provision of an abundance of fresh pasture on clean ground for the growing birds is the first step toward reducing poultry diseases.

Other sanitary precautions that should be taken are to clean and disinfect the poultry houses thoroughly at least once a year, preferably immediately before the pullets are housed in the autumn, and to cull promptly all sickly and ailing birds and bury deeply or burn the carcasses. Failure to dispose of carcasses of diseased birds is particularly dangerous.

Jap Woman Sniper

Captured Year Ago Is Being Held At Pearl Harbor

The capture of what was claimed to be the only Japanese female sniper of the war to date was disclosed by Lt.-Cmdr. Robert C. Downes, damage control officer of the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Franklin.

The prisoner, whom Downes described as 28 and attractive, was taken by marines about a year ago in the Marshalls.

"She was a tough little customer," he said.

Downes said she now was being held in a prison camp at Pearl Harbor.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Jealous Husband

— By —
MARCIA DAUGHTERY

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

"Tommy Anders going to the dinner tonight?"

Iris stared unhappily at her husband's grim profile as he let in the clutch and the sedan shot ahead. "I don't know."

"Lewis Aldert?"

"Oh, Gregg, what difference does it make?" No matter who the extra man is, you'll be jealous of him. Sometimes I think you'd suspect me of making eyes at the Hunchback of Notre Dame."

Gregg parked and slid from under the wheel leaving the motor running. "Going to get some cigarettes and leave you to dream about . . ." his smile was tight-lipped. . . . whoever the guy is. And if I ever catch you with him, I'll blow his head off. Relaxing with a sigh against the seat back Iris thought, Gregg is getting psychopathic. I wonder how much longer I can stand this jealousy business.

The closed her eyes when she heard his brisk step on the street, and remained possum-lidded as they charged down the highway, turned the corner on winning tires and shot westward. "There's no sense in driving so fast," she complained.

"Keep your trap shut," ordered a strange voice.

Iris sat up as her heart leaped into the top of her head. The man at the wheel was young—not over 28—and there were hungry hollows beneath his cheek bones. A pulse was beating in his right temple; his skin was saffron to the beard line, and below that the darkness of stubble turned cheeks and chin a muddy gray. "What are you going to do with me?" Iris asked.

"I'm going to take you out the Speedway and dump you. You can walk back."

The Speedway traversed the worst alkali section in the state. There wouldn't be a farmhouse for miles. Iris could feel every individual hair on her head as if she were a cushion sprouting pins.

Then her kidnapper made a most astonishing statement. "I'm sorry to scare you, ma'am, but I had to have this car."

He couldn't speak.

"Had soup day before yesterday," he jerked, "a dish of wormy cereal, the day before. I've a wife and kid, and they gotta eat. Not eligible for relief because I own half interest in a gas shovel!"

Iris turned in the seat as the man stopped. "Listen, when I get to a telephone I'll have to notify the police. You'll be stopped within two or three hours. But if you want to make an honest living, I know a way."

Something about the eloquent look of his eyes reminded Iris of a beaten dog that hears a friendly voice. "You wouldn't be pulling a fast one?" he gasped.

"No. This is sincere. My husband, who is chairman of the grounds committee at the country club, said they should get somebody to drain the lake and reclaim all the lead shot that has accumulated in the sludge. The shot is worth sixty-five dollars a ton, and after all these years of clay pigeon shooting there ought to be a great deal. Gregg heard about a club in the east that did it, and was bowled over by the profits. The club would want twenty per cent. of the income. But you have a shovel, and it seems to me . . ."

Her companion's lower lip hung lax. "Maybe it's a trap," he gritted, "but I'm game to find out. If it's O.K. with you, I'd like to talk to your husband tonight."

To prove his belief in her the man added, "You drive back to town." Stepping into the road, he circled the car and got in on the other side. "See, I gave you a chance to leave me if you were just fast-talking yourself out of a tough spot," he explained.

As they headed cityward, Iris recalled Gregg's final statement: "I ever catch you with him, I'll blow his head off."

If Gregg saw her with this stranger he would shoot first and ask questions afterwards. "Try to believe in me, as I've already proved my belief in you," she began. Swiftly she explained her fear.

The man scrutinized her. "Is your old man right? Have you been cheating? No use lying to me, you know."

Iris' eyes met his. "No," she said, "there's never been any man for me but Gregg. I don't think there ever will be, because I happen to adore the big, lumbering, suspicious lug."

"That's good enough for me," said her companion. "You give me your husband's name and address and I'll show up at his office tomorrow morning. That will give you time to explain things to him, and if he's half as well as you are, I'm the luckiest sucker on earth."

"His cards are in that side compartment."

He slipped one into his pocket. "You can let me out at the next corner, ma'am. Tomorrow morning is a deal."

At nine he walked into Gregg's office.

"If you think you're going to get paid . . ."

"The man grinned. 'I don't want your dirty money. You're going to give me a job to earn my cash honest. I found out what you wanted to know without dumping her. That woman is four-square, and no mist take, and if you don't give me the lake contract I'll tell her that you figured her alleged boy friend was following your car last night. Also, that you suspected they were going on a private party after she dropped you at the club, and you hired me to find out. Give, big shot—give!'"

More Important Now

Mail For Armed Forces Should Carry Complete Return Address

A complete return address on all mail for the armed forces is more important than ever at the present time. The movement of members of the armed forces will increase rather than diminish with personnel changing units, returning to Canada or proceeding from Canada overseas. All these movements complicate the delivery of their mail. Under these circumstances the postal authorities urge that a complete return address be placed on all mail to ensure its prompt return if undeliverable.

Who ever heard of a bonspiel in July? Believed to be the first ever held in Canada, such a mid-summer event is scheduled for Nelson, B.C. The apsel will last four or five days, limited to a 5-rink entry with four main events. The Nelson Olive Centre is co-operating with the Curling Club in promoting the bonspiel. Artificial ice, of course, but it should attract lots of attention.

The Roestown Eagle in Saskatchewan makes this comment: "The sooner transportation to the United States can be found for those 24,000 English brides of American fighting men, the better. A shipload of English girls is worth more than their weight in diplomats in cementing the bond of friendship between the people of the United States and Great Britain."

This is not built: An auction sale of animals by Claude Gallinger of Tofield, Alta., held at Edmonton, saw fifteen from Saskatchewan, Alberta and the U.S. pay the average $1700 each for 23 bulls, $1200 each for 11 heifers. Top price was $4800 for a yearling bull, a top heifer brought $2050.

As a well spoken John Pindermose of Kamloops, B.C., speaking at a Chamber of Commerce meeting at Salmon Arm, said: "There are too many 'unbians', British Columbians, Manitobians, Ontariobians and not enough Canadians in Canada. In the critical days to come, Canada will need all the Canadians she can get."

Tall stories now come from Cochrane, Ont., because the industrial relations committee of the Chamber of Commerce has helped to make H. F. Edgar, of Peterborough locate his new factory in Cochrane. The Lord hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad. . . . Management and labor leaders have a difficult, critical job that requires the maximum of good sense, understanding and well-thought out policies. . . . If we can learn to live together and work together in the interests of everyone in peace as in war—years spent in danger were not in vain. . . .

Meanwhile Canada has an important job in saving thousands from starvation by sending across the Atlantic all possible food supplies. . . . The expressions will vary in word and form, but the spirit of gratitude will be universal. "The annals of Time know no brighter day than this."

• Fine tribute: At Barrs Corners, N.S., Deacon Richard Delong, at 81, finishes 50 years as Sunday school superintendent of the United Baptist church. . . . On a recent Sunday they held a special anniversary service for the deacon, with a fine original program suitable to the occasion.

• Nova Scotians await with interest the development of the proposed Petticoat power project. The report of the engineers is to be on tap any time now. Premier Jones has stated the cost of development might be as low as $97 per horsepower, whereas it would be $100 per horsepower.

• Bits of Canada: Announcement of the death of the first soldier from Core's Landing, Ont., to die in World War I came ironically at the conclusion of the V-E Day church service attended by all in the village: he was Roy Thackeray, 20. . . . At Belleville, Ont., a woman walked into a butcher shop, asked for a roast in the refrigerator; told it was sold, whipped out a gun and got it. . . . At Beverley, Sask., Tony Schenkey's billygob climbed in the cab of his tractor, drank two gallons of purple gas, and passed out forever. . . . At Bowmanville, Ont., a marriage united Dorothy Cook and George Mutton. . . . Ontario again holds the spotlight. At Newmarket, two soldiers were convicted for breaking into a grocery store. One of them, minus a tooth, took a bite on a piece of cheese, later was traced through this. . . . The Alaska Highway News gleats over the story that Wynne "Scotty" Smith, who hails from Glasgow, came down at the Pottery Cafe, ordered two dozen fried soft eggs and polished them off at one sitting.

Peace Garden

Memorial To A Great President And Good Neighbor

The Peace Garden seems a most suitable place for a memorial to a great president and a Good Neighbor of Canada. Situated in the Turtle Mountains of Manitoba and North Dakota, the Peace Garden is close to the geographic centre of the continent, and has been developed by citizens of both Canada and the United States. It was designed as a memorial to the long-standing friendship between the two countries and as a pledge to the continuation of the harmony which has endured for more than a century. Certainly the International Peace Garden seems an ideal location for the building of a lasting tribute to the man who above all others contributed to the deepening and broadening of that harmony. — Winnipeg Tribune.

MEAT STRETCHING EXERCISE

One, two, three—STRETCH!

It isn't the newest reducing exercise—but the routine of a thrifty housewife planning this week's meals. For stretching budgets, without sacrificing wholesome goodness and appetite appeal in those three-times-a-day meals, is one of the basic and vital jobs of home-makers today. An important culinary trick for stretching the budget—and making thrifty main dishes even more inspiring to the appetite—is to use crisp cereal, that familiar breakfast standby, in a wide variety of main dish specialties, as a delicious extender of protein foods. The mild, but distinctive flavor of these crisp flakes of corn proves a perfect flavor-complement for all sorts of meats and fish—for meat and fowl leftovers too. The use of prepared cereal as an extender for meat dishes is a time-saver for busy house-makers, for corn flakes, crisp and golden brown, is cut easily to crumbs of any desired fineness.

A tip for good cooks is that the simplest method of preparing crumbs for meat loaves or any cooked dish, is simply to wrap corn flakes in a clean towel, making sure that all ends of the towel are carefully tucked in, and apply the rolling pin with a light hand. It is the work of seconds to produce crumbs of just the proper fineness.

Firestone

THE ONLY SYNTHETIC RUBBER TIRE

PROVED ON THE SPEEDWAY AT 100 MILES PER HOUR

CAR owners have been wondering just how safe synthetic rubber tires are—just how much mileage they will give. Firestone decided to put its tires to the supreme test. So a race car was equipped with regular, stock Firestone Synthetic Rubber Tires, the same as you can buy for your car, and raced for 500 miles around the Indianapolis Speedway under American Automobile Association supervision.

Wilbur Shaw, famous three-time winner of the Indianapolis Sweepstakes, volunteered to make the run. And he averaged 104.34 miles an hour, hitting more than 135 miles an hour on the straightaways! Imagine the punishment those tires took as they pounded over the rough brick and grinding asphalt—equal to 50,000 miles of ordinary driving! Yet, in this grueling, tire-torturing test, not a skid or blowout occurred.

Remember this fact when you get permission to buy new tires—Firestone are the only tires made that are safety-proofed on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

WARNING—The tire shortage is more critical than ever before, and cannot be solved for many months. The only way to ensure your car is on the road is to contact a Firestone dealer who can advise you on the best way to get your car back on the road. Firestone dealers will help you make this decision.

A DIFFERENCE IN SCOTCH

A bottle of imported Scotch, which sold before the war at $3.25, now commands $5.25 and is 30 per cent underproof. A bottle of rye now at $3.20 used to retail at $1.50, and a bottle of gin at $3.20 was formerly sold at $1.75.

THE DYNAMO OF GOVERNMENT

"Even the most perfect international constitution can no more give mankind security than the very best of plows itself can make farming a success. It will all be dependent on the hands that are making use of the instrument, the motive power behind it and the mind that is directing it."

This statement was made by Dr. Carl J. Hambro, president of the Norwegian parliament and a delegate to the San Francisco conference. Its truth applies no less in our federal election. Men of character, whether elected or not, will go on giving their best to the country. They raise a standard without raising issues; they take responsibility without taking sides. From them will come the qualities that are the dynamo of our national life — honesty that gives no quarter to patronage; unselfishness that draws out the contributions of the other party; teamwork where everyone works hard regardless of who gets the credit. They have a strong drawing quality for all people of good will in the nation. The issue is not only what men guide the country, but what guides the men.

One candidate said to his electors: "It is not right to base all election desires on what you will get materially. We must remember that there is a spiritual life to guard and that family life must be protected and planned for." The foundation of security in the nation is laid in our homes — homes where the parents pull together, where loyalty and united planning give the children an assurance of security. Such homes mould the character of the nation.

It is especially important now that Canada's government be backed by the fighting spirit of every red-blooded Canadian, because we have not only the task of reconverting Canada to peacetime living, of feeding Europe, of winning the war against Japan, but also of setting for the world a pattern of democracy that works.

Judge J. A. Jackson, of Lethbridge, is resigning as district court judge, effective July 1st. Mrs. Layman is also a native of Canada, becoming an officer at Lippincott, Toronto. She was the former Knigh Edith Meader and married in 1909.
